Patryk Kin

It all started with the fascination of the image. Patryk did not resist, he followed the call and began to study photography in Milan, Italy. But the still image was not enough and after successfully completing his studies he was drawn to the film school of the old master Kiezsowski in Katowice to study cinematography.

The story "behind" is the driving force behind Patryk's work. It drives the visual work, in which naturalistically placed lighting and organic camera movements are Patryk's trademarks.

His work has been recognized internationally, whether at Cannes or the camerimage festival. Patryk's latest short film "Into the night" won at the Warsaw International Film Festival and is now in consideration to be shortlisted for he Oscars.

Patryk lives in Warsaw. His clients include Mercedes, Volvo, Porsche, Samsung, Huawei and Mc Donald's.
